Windward Community College.
The College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts of the Territory of Hawaii was established on the island of Oahu in 1907. In 1911, it became the College of Hawaii, and in 1919, the University of Hawaii. In 1964, the University was authorized by the State legislature to operate a state-wide community college system, and other campuses were consequently established.
In 1970, the University of Hawaii at Hilo system, subsidiary to the University of Hawaii, was established on the island of Hawaii. Under its jurisdiction was the 4-year Hilo College, and three other institutions.
In 1972, a reorganization of the University of Hawaii took place in which a state-wide central administration was established to oversee the multi-island system. At that time, the main campus in Honolulu became known as the University of Hawaii at Manoa.
Works by the university at the main campus published before the 1972 reorganization are found under:
Hawaii. University, Honolulu.
Works by the central university system published since the reorganization in 1972 are found under:

University of Hawaii (System)
Works published by the university at the main campus after the 1972 reorganization are found under:
University of Hawaii at Manoa.
Works published by the institutions at the various other campuses are entered under their own names:

Wisconsin. Dept. of Social Adjustment.
The Wisconsin State Board of Charities and Reform was created in 1871. In 1881 the State Board of Supervision of Wisconsin Charitable, Reformatory and Penal Institutions was formed. In 1891 these 2 boards were abolished and the State Board of Control of Wisconsin Reformatory, Charitable, and Penal Institutions was established. In 1911 its name was changed to State Board of Control. In 1939 the newly created State Dept. of Public Welfare absorbed the functions of the board along with those of the Public Welfare Dept. (created in 1936) and the State Pension Dept. (created in 1935) (These 3 agencies had previously been abolished in 1937 and 3 new agencies created: the Dept. of Mental Hygiene, Dept. of Social Adjustment, and Dept. of Corrections. These in turn were abolished in 1939 and the 3 former agencies reestablished for a short period in that year) In 1967 the State Dept. of Public Welfare and the State Board of Health (created in 1876) were absorbed by the newly created Dept. of Health and Social Services.
Works by these bodies published before 1891 are found under the following headings according to the name used at the time of publication:

The Wisconsin State Board of Charities and Reform was created in 1871. In 1881 the State Board of Supervision of Wisconsin Charitable, Reformatory and Penal Institutions was formed. In 1891 these 2 boards were abolished and the State Board of Control of Wisconsin Reformatory, Charitable, and Penal Institutions was established. In 1911 its name was changed to State Board of Control. In 1939 the newly created State Dept. of Public Welfare absorbed the functions of the board along with those of the Public Welfare Dept. (created in 1936) and the State Pension Dept. (created in 1935) (These 3 agencies had previously been abolished in 1937 and 3 new agencies created: the Dept. of Mental Hygiene, Dept. of Social Adjustment, and Dept. of Corrections. These in turn were abolished in 1939 and the 3 former agencies reestablished for a short period in that year) In 1967 the State Dept. of Public Welfare and the State Board of Health (created in 1876) were absorbed by the newly created Dept. of Health and Social Services.
